

Psalm 24:1 tells us that “the earth is the Lord’s, and everything in it, the world, and all who live in it.” Throughout scripture, God calls on us as His followers to be good stewards of all the resources He has created and gives us. He blesses us not to increase our standard of living, but to increase our standard of giving.

We can look to the selfless love and sacrificial giving that Jesus demonstrated in his life and death and know that the Lord desires for us to give of ourselves as well. Whether in times of prosperity or scarcity, giving is an act that transforms our hearts, changes the world, and testifies to the generosity that Jesus taught and modeled. As we depend on God’s unlimited resources and give joyfully and confidently, we grow closer to God in our relationship with Him.

Investing in God’s Kingdom

We at The Mission Society are committed to mobilizing and deploying the body of Christ globally to join Jesus in His mission, especially among least reached people groups. It is our prayer that we would see the Kingdom of God advancing among all peoples, bringing about redemption and reconciliation through Jesus Christ.

The question is: How are you called to join Jesus in His mission? Are you called to give of your time? Your financial resources? Other gifts?

We want to be a bridge for you to the world and assist you in fulfilling God’s call on your life to “make disciples of all nations” (Matt. 28:19-20). God has called us to participate in His Kingdom work by going, praying, and giving.

Your donation to The Mission Society for our Missionary Support Ministries will do three things: (1) train, send, support and care for missionaries going out with the good news of Jesus to the world; (2) mobilize and train national leaders to be disciple-makers in their cultures and beyond; and (3) motivate and empower local churches into more strategic outreach in their communities and around the globe.

You can make an eternal difference in the lives of peoples and cultures globally through your investment with The Mission Society.

Matthew 6:19-21 (NIV)

Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy, and where thieves break in and steal. But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where moth and rust do not destroy, and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

There are several ways you can partner financially with us:

Cash gift: The easiest way to give is by mailing a check to The Mission Society, 6234 Crooked Creek Road, Norcross, GA 30092; or by giving by credit card or electronic funds transfer (from a checking account) online at www.themissionsociety.org/go/onlinedonations.

Stock gift: The gift of stock shares can advance God's Kingdom. Stock shares can be transferred directly to The Mission Society or sold, and then the proceeds given. Some transactions can have more tax benefits for the giver and the recipient.

Estate gift: For the past two decades, many of our partners have been very generous in remembering The Mission Society in their wills and trusts. You can play a significant role in ensuring that the Gospel of Jesus Christ will continue to be proclaimed through The Mission Society well into the 21st century.

Property gift: When considering ways to make a charitable gift, many have discovered that gifts of property and real estate can have benefits for both the recipient and the donor. This can be an efficient way to give without affecting your income.

Honorarium and Memorial gifts:

Honorarium and Memorial gifts provide an ideal opportunity to remember a loved one or honor someone special in your life. With your thoughtful gift to The Mission Society, you can pay tribute to that special person and, at the same time, invest in the lives of others around the world.

How is The Mission Society funded?

The Mission Society is funded through the generous gifts of thousands of churches, foundations, and individuals who partner with us to further the ministry. Most gifts are given by individuals and foundations, while the remaining portion comes from churches around the United States. Because

The Mission Society does not receive any denominational support or apportionments, your gifts are vital to us and to the continued growth of God's work.

*A higher standard.
A higher purpose.*

How can I know that The Mission Society is financially sound and a good steward of the gifts I give?

The Mission Society is a member of the Evangelical Council for Financial Accountability (ECFA), an accreditation agency dedicated to helping Christian ministries earn the public's trust through adherence to seven Standards of Responsible Stewardship. Comprised of more than 1,200 charitable, religious, missionary, social, and educational tax-exempt, nonprofit 501(c)(3) organizations, the ECFA's Standards of Responsible Stewardship focus on board governance, financial transparency, integrity in fund-raising, and proper use of charitable resources. In our desire to be good stewards of the resources God provides, we believe in financial accountability and transparency, and we meet the standards set by the ECFA.

Just like these supporters, you can change the eternal destiny of millions through your fervent prayers and financial partnership with The Mission Society.

"I believe The Mission Society is the best ministry I can partner with to invest my resources for eternal impact."

William M. Johnson, social entrepreneur/investor
Canton, Georgia

"With The Mission Society, you are never just a donor. You are a friend and a partner and a colleague. Where they go, you go as well."

Rev. Phil Thrailkill, pastor
Hartsville, South Carolina

"Having visited many of the fields of service and seeing firsthand the efforts of our dedicated missionaries, I know that The Mission Society is truly doing His work in fulfilling the Great Commission. I know of no other organization more devoted to this wonderful work. The Mission Society does the most with the least of any organization I have ever supported."

Jim Davis, businessman
Dalton, Georgia